Carl Moulton Dies In Los Angeles

Carl Moulton, 22, former resident of Heber, died Monday in a Los Angeles, Cal., hospital of complications resulting from an appendectomy.

He was born March 14, 1919, in Heber, a son of Rollin and Rene Duke Moulton. Fifteen years ago he moved to California. He was employed as a machinist in the Lockheed aircraft factory in Burbank, Calif.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Frances Moulton; his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Culver; a sister, Mrs. Ralph Crigler; a brother, Billy Moulton, all of Los Angeles, and his grandmother, Mrs. Janet Duke, Salt Lake City.

Carl Moulton Dies In Los Angeles

Carl Moulton, 22, former resident of Heber, died Monday in a Los Angeles, Cal., hospital of complications resulting from an appendectomy.

He was born March 14, 1919, in Heber, a son of Rollin and Rene Duke Moulton. Fifteen years ago he moved to California. He was employed as a machinist in the Lockheed aircraft factory in Burbank, Calif.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Frances Moulton; his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Culver; a sister, Mrs. Ralph Crigler; a brother, Billy Moulton, all of Los Angeles, and his grandmother, Mrs. Janet Duke, Salt Lake City.

Carl Moulton Dies In Los Angeles

Carl Moulton, 22, former resident of Heber, died Monday in a Los Angeles, Cal., hospital of complications resulting from an appendectomy.

He was born March 14, 1919, in Heber, a son of Rollin and Rene Duke Moulton. Fifteen years ago he moved to California. He was employed as a machinist in the Lockheed aircraft factory in Burbank, Calif.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Frances Moulton; his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Culver; a sister, Mrs. Ralph Crigler; a brother, Billy Moulton, all of Los Angeles, and his grandmother, Mrs. Janet Duke, Salt Lake City.